

Demising Wall Permit Requirements

In commercial buildings with more than one tenant, the individual spaces or lease areas are usually divided up or sectioned off by the use of demising walls. These walls provide a certain amount of privacy, security and sometimes fire protection between the various tenant spaces. Many developers, contractors