El Paso, Texas- Detectives from the Pebble Hills Regional Command are investigating a series of thefts involving food delivery drivers paid with counterfeit money. Food deliveries are ordered to random addresses by persons using spoofed phone numbers. The offenders involved approach the delivery drivers before the drivers reach the address on the order and pay using counterfeit money. Detectives advise delivery drivers should be especially suspicious if approached before making contact with someone at the delivery address. The authenticity of the currency can be detected by the texture of the paper. Anyone who may have related information can call (915) 212-4759.
