Final Market at Camp Cohen in 2025 Returns to Downtown Arts District for Festival Season

EL PASO, Texas—The City of El Paso Museums and Cultural Affairs Department (MCAD) invites the community to join the final Art and Farmers Market at Camp Cohen of the year from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, September 27, at 9700 Gateway N. Blvd.

The Market at Camp Cohen has quickly become a Northeast El Paso favorite, offering a vibrant mix of original art, handmade crafts, locally grown produce, food vendors, and unique artisan goods.

Following the September market, The Market will shift back to the Downtown Arts District to coincide with the City's most popular fall and winter festivals:

- Chalk the Block: October 11 & 12, 2025
- Día de los Muertos: November 1, 2025
- WinterFest: November 22, 2025 - January 4, 2026

Vendor applications for all three festivals are now closed. The Market will pop up in locations designed to complement each festival's footprint downtown.

Since relocating to Camp Cohen in 2024, The Market has broadened its reach—supporting small businesses, strengthening the local economy, and creating a family-friendly gathering space for the community. It has also received national recognition: in 2025, The Market at WinterFest was ranked #2 Holiday Market in the U.S. by USA Today's 10Best.

The Market will return to its regular Saturday schedule in spring 2026.
