Municipal Court Helps Families Prepare for a Safe Return to School

EL PASO, Texas—The El Paso Municipal Court invites families to a free Back-to-School Public Safety Event featuring vaccinations, car seat inspections, educational resources, and family activities from 9 a.m. to noon Friday, July 31, at the Northeast Bond Office, 9600 Dyer.

The event will bring together several City departments to provide free services and resources that help children stay safe, healthy, and ready for the new school year.

“Public safety extends beyond the courtroom,” said Municipal Court Director Annabelle Casas. “This event brings City departments together to connect families with the services and information they need to keep their children safe and healthy as they head back to school. It’s another way Municipal Court is building stronger connections with the community we serve.”

Event highlights include:

- Free car seat safety inspections conducted by certified technicians. Participants should bring their vehicle, car seat, and child for hands-on installation guidance. Car seats will not be provided.
- Free vaccinations for children and adults provided by the El Paso Department of Public Health, including Hepatitis A and B, DTaP, IPV, Hib, HPV, PCV, Rotavirus, MMR, and Varicella.
- An El Paso Public Libraries resource booth featuring free books, educational materials, information about library programs, and enhanced library cards.
- Family-friendly games, giveaways, prizes, and complimentary snacks while supplies last.

The event is presented in partnership with the El Paso Police Department, El Paso Department of Public Health, and El Paso Public Libraries.
