El Paso, Texas—On September 4th, 2023, at approximately 12:49 a.m., police called 260 McClintock regarding a shooting. When officers arrived, they located two men outside between two apartment buildings. Borquez was providing first aid to Marin, who was on the ground with a gunshot wound. Marin was transported to a local hospital but died from his injuries. Crimes Against Persons Unit was called to handle the investigation. The investigation revealed Marin was staying at his ex-girlfriend's apartment for the night when they began to have a verbal altercation. During the argument, the female asked the decedent to leave her residence. The female then went to Borquez's residence to seek shelter. Marin then engaged in a physical struggle outside the apartment with Borquez. When Marin tried to force his way into the apartment, Borquez shot Marin and then quickly began providing first aid. No charges are being presented, and the case will be presented to the District Attorney's Office for review.
