CITY OF EL PASO
Escheatment Policy

1.0 Purpose

The City of El Paso is dedicated to complying with the unclaimed property reporting laws of every jurisdiction to which it may become accountable. Unclaimed property is generally intangible property that has not been claimed by its true owner for a period of time. It is the City’s goal to limit all transfers to the State by having a policy in place that will guide efforts to return the unclaimed property to the true owner where possible. Some examples of unclaimed property typically include but are not limited to payroll, pension and vendor payments.

2.0 Definition

Escheatment is the reversion of property to a government entity in the absence of legal claimants or heirs. Escheatment is also defined as the forfeiture of all property to the state treasury if there are no descendants or named beneficiaries to take the property in the event that an individual dies intestate or without a will and legal heirs. The concept of escheatment maintains that property always has a recognized owner, which would be the State or government if no other claimants to ownership exist or are readily identified.

Annually the City will prepare the report for submission to the State, to include outstanding checks that are over 3 years old. Treasury Services will verify the outstanding checks list with departments each year and remove from the outstanding check list any checks that have been resolved.

To ensure that information is disseminated consistently throughout the City and to the interested parties, any inquiry from outside parties to City employees should be referred to the City of El Paso’s website in order to submit an Open Records request.
